

Kifaru Lewa House Safari Lodge is a luxury villa built by one of Lewa's principal donors with no effort spared to ensure the best in style and comfort. Kifaru Lewa House is available to be taken exclusively and is a real indulgence accommodation-wise and there'll be no dirt under the fingernails here.

Kifaru House Safari Lodge is located in Lewa Wildlife Conservancy. Situated on the northern foothills of Mt Kenya, Kifaru House is set on the 65,000 acre privately owned Lewa Wildlife Conservancy. Kifaru, the Swahili word for rhinoceros, is the dream realized by one of Lewa Conservancy's donors. A private villa built with no compromise in quality or comfort by a unique individual.

Kifaru House Safari Lodge living area is as spacious as the vast plains it overlooks. With a comfortable sitting area around a huge fireplace, it is the perfect spot for conversation after a day filled with adventure. The dining area includes a spectacular table crafted from ancient dhow wood plus an inviting fireplace. Kifaru has a swimming pool which looks out towards Mt. Kenya.

A short walk from the main area through the beautiful gardens, takes you to six cottages. Kifaru House Safari Lodge cottages all have large windows looking out on stunning views and are furnished with beautiful colonial style furniture. Canopied double beds, en suite baths and private verandahs make these luxuries in the wild.

Kifaru House Safari Lodge accommodation is in 6 Rooms, sleeps 12 guests in 6 Double rooms.
