

Dhow House Shela Village Lamu

Finished in 2004 by Katy Barker, Dhow House is a spectacular property combining both traditional Swahili and modern design. Dhow House is an oasis of calm, sitting between the Indian ocean and timeless sand dunes set back in 3 acres of garden; a hidden treasure offers maximum privacy.

Accommodation & Room Types

Expect five star service with a full staff of seven, a beautifully lush landscaped garden, swimming pool, brand new kitchen, 50 inch TV and WIFI for guests. Situated on the Island of Lamu in Kenya, Dhow house is encompassed by the village of Shela, which is a destination in its own right. Traditional stone houses, winding paths, mosques and ancient ruins surrounding a central square all create an authentic African experience www.crocodileracers.com
