

L'ol Dacha hotel in Kenya's Rift Valley is a "mini lodge" located on a plateau on the eastern edge of Kenya's Great Rift Valley, just over an hour's drive south west of Nairobi centre. L'ol Dacha hotel may be used on exclusive basis for private groups or for individual bookings, offering plenty of privacy. Situated on the edge of a ridge between two gorges on an 80 acre private estate, the beautiful view from this hotel stretches across Africa's Great Rift valley.

On clear days you can see for hundreds of miles into Tanzania to the south and over to the distant Nguruman escarpment to the west. Guests in L'ol dacha stay in stone cottages with bathrooms en suite. All is ultra casual and guests can cool off in the splash pool or simply unwind in this peaceful scenery.

There is a general purpose day room with split level dining room and kitchen attached. There are 3 self-contained cottages with cold water washrooms. However, the outdoor solar heated shower with sun deck offers very hot water at all times.www.crocodileracers.com

The cottages are powered by generator, cooking is by gas, BBQ or solar cooker. Two very large efficient cool boxes available to keep food and drink. Guests however have to bring their food and drink.
